PRAYER AND EUCHARIST, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 2021

Celtic Daily Prayer Book 2, Eata Readings, October 22

Psalm 91:15-16 † Jeremiah 32:17-19 † Luke 10:25-28

Daily Reading

Our deepest life consists of a willed correspondence with the world of Spirit, and this willed correspondence, which is prayer, is destined to fulfill itself in two main ways: in love toward God and in love toward humanity— two loves which at their highest become one.

--Evelyn Underhill

Meditation

Sooner or later, in varying degrees, the power and redeeming energy of God will be manifested through those who reach out in desire, first toward Him and then toward other souls. And we, living and growing personalities, are required to become ever more and more spiritualized, ever more and more persuasive, more and more deeply real; in order that we may fulfill this divine purpose.

--Evelyn Underhill
